WINE REVIEW

Zenato 2008 Amarone della Valpolicella Archivio Storico

96

Deep ruby with a pale rim. Very elegant yet rich and ripe, boasting suave tannins that nicely frame the red fruit and tobacco flavours on the peppery finish. Tobacco and incense are also very noticeable on the long back end, descriptors that are typical of Zenato's older Amarone wine such as this one. This is a blend of 80% Corvina and Corvinone and 10% Rondinella, with the remaining 10% of Croatina and Oseleta. Released for sale only after ten years of aging (and only 2500 bottles, plus 400 magnums), the next Archivio Storico to be released will be the 2013. Drinking window: 2024-2038.
